

A Place to Call Our Home

It's a long walk where we're going
I can't find my way alone
Walk with me and maybe soon
We'll find a place that we can call our home

I never held my father's hand
I never learned my mother's language
I'm like a stranger in my own land
I never found a place where I could stand

It's a long walk where we're going
I can't find my way alone
Walk with me and maybe soon
We'll find a place that we can call our home

So long since I saw my brother
A long time since my sister smiled
So much lost when we crossed over
One small boat alone against the tide

It's a long walk where we're going
I can't find my way alone
Walk with me and maybe soon
We'll find a place that we can call our home

I never held my father's hand
I never learned my mother's language
I'm like a stranger in my own land
I never found a place where I could stand

It's a long walk where we're going
I can't find my way alone
Walk with me and maybe soon
We'll find a place that we can call our home
